Construction Insurance Solutions

London Market

The construction industry is characterised by multiple risk variables that impact safety, timing, completion, and profitability.

In addition to placing more standard construction coverage, we are specialists within the high-risk construction sector, where our deep knowledge of the London market enables us to provide tailored solutions in circumstances where the domestic insurance market is unable to assist.

Construction Insurance

From builders and developers to tradesmen, learn more about Optis' construction insurance solutions and how our construction team can help with underwriting, risk engineering, and claims expertise.
